Gallery @ BMC is a community-centered multi-media art gallery located at the Belmont Media center facility at 9 Lexington Street in Belmont. The Gallery encourages, supports, and promotes the work of local artists in Belmont and surrounding communities. BMC is a vibrant media center with extensive hours open to the public & is an excellent venue for local art exhibitions.

Gallery @ BMC is another way in which BMC fulfills its mission of “Building Community Through Media”. The Gallery Committee reviews works submitted by artists and chooses curators and jurors for group shows. In order to be considered as an exhibitor, the Committee will need a resume or biography and samples of your work. Samples of slides, photographs, or jpeg files (and website links) can be emailed to jeff@belmontmedia.org

Please specify the dimensions of the original works. If you would prefer to show the committee original artwork, you may leave well-protected pieces at our facility. These will be ready for you to pick up in approximately two weeks, after the Gallery Committee has had a chance to review them.

If you are interested in serving as a curator or juror for an exhibit, please present your ideas and background information to the Gallery Committee.

The Gallery Committee will also hold special exhibits for students, senior citizen groups, and non-profits & coops. These will be curated by an appropriate contact for that group. Suggestions can be made to the Gallery Committee or to jeff@belmontmedia.org

There is a $25 fee for professional artists to exhibit their work in the Gallery to offset renewable supplies cost. Artists who are members or join BMC will receive a show fee waiver. Artists are responsible for hanging and removing their show, as well as planning and hosting the opening reception. Invitations and printed promotional materials are also the responsibility of the artist and must be approved by the Gallery Committee to ensure accuracy of information.

BMC is a non-profit organization and requests that all artists or organizations make a voluntary donation of 10% of the sales of any works sold during the exhibition to BMC. All donations defray gallery maintenance costs and helps BMC offer gallery space at minimal cost to artists, schools, organizations and the public. All exhibitors are required to sign a “Hold Harmless” agreement with BMC, as there is no insurance coverage provided.

The Gallery may promote exhibits through local press, email listserv, and the BMC Community Bulletin Board on channels 96/30. BMC volunteers may produce a TV segment about the artist(s). Information will be posted on belmontmedia.org
